I don't have any experience using MS Word and I want to write educational materials to teach myself. I want to be able to generate, for example, the following document: Have students read the classic poem "Ode to a Nightingale" by Keats (Worksheets) - What are the terms used to evaluate the poem? What are common terms? - Compare the literature in the great collection of the first language. Is there an emphasis on a specific approach? - Have the students interpret the poem in their own way. To do this, I want you to use the sources

Circular extrachromosomal replication (CER) may drive malignant transformation and disease progression in HIV-1 infection. Here we show that the single-strand tail of CER circular DNA induces nucleosome remodeling that in turn leads to the formation of nucleosome-free regions. The resulting nucleosome-free regions allow the entry of the 3'LTR of the positive-strand CER circular DNA into the host chromosomal chromatin and thus facilitate the integration of this DNA into the host genome. Therefore, the tail of CER circular DNA may both suppress nucleosome remodeling and potentiate integration. Treatment of CER circular DNA-producing cells with deoxynucleoside triphosphates (dNTPs) or deoxycytidine triphosphate, a stable branch point for DNA synthesis and termination, showed that dNTPs blocked the nucleosome remodeling and phenotypic conversion of CER circular DNA. Thus, strand-terminating dNTPs suppressed circular DNA production and the subsequent nucleosome remodeling and integration of CER DNA. These results highlight a mechanism by which the physiological functions of CER may contribute to viral pathogenesis and provide molecular clues for the development of anti-HIV-1 strategy based on CER.The Pentagon has launched a program to build and supply small drones that can be guided by Google's widely used Android system, according to a contract that was won by the 1cb139a0ed
