One World One Product..Q: Javascript to disable the keyboad I'm looking at some javascript code to capture some data, and onclick events. I'm looking at some inline code as I believe it's very unecessary code to cleanse this out. Anyhow, I need to know how to disable the keyboad if a key is pressed. I see no option to set a key handler for the keyboad, but maybe I'm not looking in the right place. I'm looking to handle the keyboad when "c", "p", "q", "w" and "e" is pressed, and a onclick to execute on the click event. function captureMouse () { var x=event.clientX-window.document.documentElement.offsetLeft; var y=event.clientY-window.document.documentElement.offsetTop; alert("Mouse Coords: " + x + " " + y); } window.addEventListener 6d1f23a050
